MOTORCYCLES IN EVIDENCE NEW

Two-Wheeled Speed Machines Will Occupy One Section.

CYCLECAR TO BE EXHIBITED

Latest Type of Motor Vehicle Will Be Displayed by Nebraska Cycle Company in Same Section as Motorcycles,

The motorcycle allotment will be very much in evidence at the Omaha Autooblie show this year. Last year was the first year a motorcycle exhibit was shown in Omeha and the success of that venture was so marked that this year it was decided to give more attention to the two-wheeled machines in order to acmodate the desires of the public rhich, as a whole has as much curiosity about motorcycles as about automobiles. The exhibit this year will be as it was last year, in the north corridor of the Auditorium, with entrance from the stage, the entire corridor has been reserved for this purpose and will be decorated appropriately. Designer Colling has devised distinctive decorations for section and promises that it will be one of the most attractive adjuncts to the big event.

As the motorcycle industry in Omahi is in its infancy and the number of dealers is relatively few, only four firms have contracted for space. They are the Nebraska Cycle company, W. E. ## Preacher Travels

There is one clergyman at least who motorcycle, not perhaps as a "saver of souls," but as a saver of time, a saver of money and a saver of ministers.

George W. Phillips, pastor of First Baptist church of Hamilton, O., is the minister in question, and after a year's use of a Yaie Twin be calls his machine

Before buying a motorcycle, Mr. Phillips often experienced a tax almost beyond his energy. Now ther are few demands that prove too heavy. For instance, not long he handled a full forenoon's work at his office, had dinner in Hamilton mounted his machine, rode twenty-five miles to Kentucky, preached a funeral sermon at 2 o'clock, and was back at Hamilton for his evening's work.

Another day he had three weddings to perform in half an hour, and had to cover more than two miles to make con-nections—the motorcycle made the thing

Lifting of Marion

What is taken in automobile circles to be a most optimistic sign of trade conditions in general and of the automobile dustry in particular, was the lifting of the receivership for the Marion Motor Car company of Indianapolis on January 24. It was shown that the financial affairs of the company have been adjusted for the continuation of the company's business on a larger scale than ever be-

T. F. Riley of Fargo, N. D., seemed to have an idea that his Paige could go anywhere. He is a famous nimred and uses his car for hunting in the mountains and on the plains and it has never falled him but once. He took to duck hunting in his Paige, and this was too much even for this good-natured, willing car.

Mr. Riley tells in his letter that the efforts of the two-man power kicker behind, coupled with the thirty-six horsepower under the hood were successful in pulling him out of the marsh, but adds," if it had been any other car than a Paige I would be there yet."

Considerable interest locally is being taken by motor men with regard to the first automobile show in St. Joseph, which will be held for four days subsequent to February 4. Most of the local men are interested in the success of the show and several will attend.

George Toozer hopped over to Chicago to the show there to see just how superior his exhibits at the local display will be to the displays at Chicago.

It says that the this was the invariable reply that the great editor of the Tribune made to Chorus singing by the choir. every young man who sought his advice. The advice was so good that it has been fixed in the mind of the public and it is doubtful whether the idea that Greeley originated the phrase will ever pass away. Yet the circumstances of the phrase being attributed to Greeley in what was deemed a harmless piece of literary forgery have often been set forth. Mr. Greeley finally set the matter right in the columns of the Tribune by declaring that the expression of the Receivership is a sentiment had been erroneously attributed to himself. But he added that the concur is the advice it save that endorsed it most heartly and gave that endorsed it most heartly and oined in saying, "Go west, young man;

The article in which the advice first appeared was written by John L. B. Souls for the Terre Haute Express in William S. Walsh, who has run the history of the matter down original sources, says that Mr. Soule and Richard Thompson, later secretary of the navy, were talking in Mr. Soule's sanctum, and Mr. Thompson, who held his friend's talents as a writer in high cateem. was urging him to go west and grow up with the country. By way of incouragement he told Mr. Soule that could write an article that would be attributed to Horace Greeley if he tried Mr. Soule modestly demurred. Mr. Soule wrote a column editorial for the Express on the opportunities in the west, beginning with the words: "Horace Greeley could never have given a young man better advice than that contained in the words, 'Go west, young man.' It will be observed that it was not technically a forgery, but its effect was the same. It was reproduced from one end of the country to the other, necessitating the correction by Mr. Greeley in the Tribune, which was accomplished by re-producing the Express article in full and dding what has already been quoted. #### The Master Carburetor The Fool Proof Carburetor

There are only three moving parts:

The Rotary Throttle, The Regulated Air Damper, The Float Action.

These parts and the unique Fuel Distributer are ample proof that the Master Carburetor is no accident, but the production of master minds and after many years of careful work and experience.

> No adjustments, no valves, no springs. More power, mileage, flexibility.

"To Burn Fuel Unrefined, The Master Is Designed"

The carburetors in general use, with all due respect to the designers and constructors, do not meet the present fuel conditions. It can readily be seen by those interested that a carburetor constructed and marketed to handle the heavier fuels sold today and also for even heavier products of the near future is demanded.

We all want motor fuel, therefore in some way or another enough fuel must be produced from crude oil to supply the demand, and as the demand has increased, so has the density of the product increased. In other words, the fuels are heavier.

It is the knowledge possessed by the automobile owner and user that is creating the demand for better construction and equipment throughout It is well said that when the Master Carburetor joing your car, your carburetor troubles leave it. You owe it to yourself to investigate this wonderful inven-Agents Wanted for Unoccupied Territory.

Just as effective as putting sand on the track

Diamond Vitalized Rubber Squeegee Tires

When the rail is wet or covered with oil, ice and sleet, a little sand on the track gives the wheel the necessary action.

That's how Diamond Squeegee Treads work—they provide the traction that prevents the skid meaning security.

This extra safety advantage costs you nothing. The increased wear and mileage received from a Diamond Squeegee Tread Tire is so apparent that many motorists use them all the year around from the viewpoint of economy alone.
